Stephen Mancini

American Global Welcomes Stephen Mancini as Senior Vice President

With a proven track record in strategy and operations, Stephen's extensive business experience will be a tremendous addition to the team.

Jericho, NY - American Global is excited to welcome Stephen Mancini to our team as Senior Vice President. With his extensive experience in business operations, growth strategies, and risk mitigation, Stephen brings a fresh and valuable perspective to help clients navigate complex challenges and seize new opportunities. His deep understanding of the construction industry, combined with an innovative approach, will further our ability to deliver tailored solutions that drive tangible results for our clients.

Stephen's background as a consultant, entrepreneur, and strategic leader, uniquely positions him to help our clients not only identify risks, but turn them into growth opportunities. His ability to integrate industry best practices with practical risk management strategies will enable American Global clients to achieve operational excellence and sustainable growth. Stephen is an outstanding addition to American Global's team of technical resources who bring a wealth of knowledge and experience from a diverse group of disciplines, then collaborate to deliver best-in-class results.

American Global CEO Michael Marino said "Stephen's energy and expertise will enhance our ability to deliver superior solutions to our valued clients. Stephen has an impressive background in client advisory, finance, and risk. His experience and unique approach to data and analytics creates tremendous potential for our teammates and clients to maximize opportunities into the future."

Stephen remarked "I am genuinely enthusiastic about joining American Global, a firm transforming the industry by redefining the role of a broker and focused on client value creation. With my broad background in operations, risk mitigation and strategic growth, I look forward to contributing to the team's ongoing efforts to deliver comprehensive, industry-leading solutions to our clients."

Before joining American Global, Stephen served as a leader at a global consulting solutions practice, heading the firm's Strategy and Operations Consulting Group where he advised clients across a broad range of industries including construction, manufacturing, technology, and more. His proven track record in designing large-scale initiatives, including co-founding a nationally recognized New York consulting firm focused on operational transformation, will be a key resource for our clients, particularly as they seek to optimize performance and navigate today's rapidly changing construction landscape.

Stephen's academic credentials, including a Master of Science degree in Enterprise Risk Management from Columbia University and an MBA with a concentration in Entrepreneurship & Innovation from New York University's Stern School of Business, reflect his commitment to driving innovative solutions that empower clients to stay ahead of the curve.
