Joe Aulbert Appointed President of American Global Texas

Houston, TX — American Global, one of North America's largest privately held insurance and surety brokerage firms specializing in construction risk management, is pleased to announce the appointment of Joe Aulbert as President of American Global of Texas. In this role, Aulbert will lead the firm's Texas operations, driving strategic growth, strengthening client relationships, and expanding American Global's presence across one of the nation's most dynamic construction and infrastructure markets.

A respected industry leader with extensive experience in construction performance security, risk management and client advisory services, Aulbert brings a proven track record of helping contractors, developers, and project stakeholders navigate strategy on complex accounts and risk while supporting long-term business growth.

"Joe's vision, experience, and integrity will continue to advance the tremendous momentum we have as an organization within Texas and beyond. I have known Joe for many years, he is a leader who combines deep industry experience with a relentless commitment to clients and team development," said Michael Marino, Chairman and CEO of American Global. "Texas remains one of the most important construction markets in North America with some of our most talented leaders presiding in Texas. Joe's leadership, relationships, and strategic vision will help us continue to build on our success developed with Paul's leadership over the last eight years. We are excited to welcome him and excited for the future"

Paul Messenger, who successfully founded and led American Global's Texas operations, will transition into a strategic Business Advisory role. In this capacity, Messenger will continue to support key client relationships, mentor team members, and help drive growth initiatives throughout the region.

"Having worked alongside Joe for many years, I've seen firsthand the leadership, integrity, and client-first mindset he brings to every opportunity," said Paul Messenger. "I couldn't be more excited to see him step into this role. Joe understands the Texas market, knows what it takes to build strong teams, and shares the values that have made our operation successful. I am confident he will continue to move the Texas business forward while creating new opportunities for our clients and colleagues."

Aulbert's appointment reflects American Global's ongoing investment in top-tier talent and its commitment to delivering innovative solutions to construction industry clients. The firm continues to expand strategically and organically while maintaining its collaborative culture and client-focused approach.

"American Global has built an outstanding reputation throughout the construction industry, and I'm honored to join such a talented organization," said Joe Aulbert. "The Texas team has established an incredible foundation under Paul's leadership, and I look forward to building upon that success, supporting our clients and colleagues, while helping drive the next phase of growth for the region."

Aulbert holds a Bachelor of Business Administration from Sam Houston State University and is licensed to conduct business in all 50 states and Puerto Rico. He and his wife, Kriste, reside in Tomball, Texas.
